

Terms and conditions

The Pedometer mobile app can be downloaded for free at Google Play and in the App Store.

By registering and using the Pedometer mobile app you are giving access to localization data required for the use of the app - exact location (using GPS and network).

For earning points and moving up the levels the app has access to data received through the internet, can display network connections and has full network access. Points are added for free after each goal is achieved.

For fast initialization and use of the Pedometer app, it has permission to automatically start at boot.

To add points even when the app is running in the background, it has permission to prevent the device from entering sleep mode.

By registering the app with Facebook, you are giving access to your profile picture and Facebook registration name. For competing on the leaderboard with friends, you are giving access to your friends on the social network.

Functions may vary depending on country of use.

All information obtained from user registration and use of the Pedometer mobile app may be used for the advertising and marketing purposes of Pedometer.

By downloading the mobile app, you are giving permission to all of the above.
